BOARDING-HOUSES

Mrs. Mand L. Parish, a well-dressed and fine looking woman of thirty, was taken to Police Headquarters yesterday and locked up on charges of theft and arison. The detectives who arrested her found stolen property worth about $800 in her room at No. 145 East Nineteenth-st. She afterward made a confession of her guilt to inspector Byrnes and told where she had pawned a number of stolen articles. The prisoner is the wife of a decorator employed by Pottier, Stymus & Co., a Lexington-ave, and Forty-second-st, it was said yesterday that her husband earned a good salary and had provided her with every comfort the she countered her with every comfort the she countered her with expect. In June, 1881, they occupied a room in the boarding-house at No. 208 East Fourteenth-st. Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Brinkerhoff, two other boarders, missed articles of clothing and jewerry valued at $500, and a servant in the house was necused of stealing them. An investigation showed that Mrs. Parish was the the found his friends prevailed upon Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Brinkerhoff not to press a charge against the woman.

but the stolen articles with control and his friends prevailed upon Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Brinkerhoff not to press a charge against the woman.

Mr. Parish then took his wife to the boardinghouse at No. 145 East Nincteenth-st. The true character of Mrs. Parish was not known, and she made herself a favorite in the house, she was especially attentive to Mrs. Gabadan, an invah'd who boarded in the house in company with her daughter. The women saw so much of each other that Mrs. Parish was able to learn where the jewelry and most expensive garments of Mrs. Gabadan and her daughter were kept. Miss Gabadan missed some jewelry and $30 in 2-ld from her trunk about two months ago and could not account for the less. On Jane 18 a fire broke out mysteriously in Mrss Gabadan's room. The flames were extinguished quickly, but the firemen were mable to explain how the room came to be on fire. After the excitement caused by the fire had subsided, Miss Gabadan discovered that her room had been robbed of costly dresses, and that a jewelry box, containing her ornaments, had been stolen from a trunk. It was apparent, then, that the room had been set on thre by a thiel, who hoped in that way t conceal the robbery. Mrs. Gabadan was made so iff by fright that she died.

Information of the robbery and fire was given to Inspec or Byrnes, and detectives kept a watch upon the movements of several persons who lived in the house. Mrs. Parish was seen in the streets wearing some of Miss Gabadan's stolen jeweiry. When she was asked about these articles she said she had purchased them. Her former experience at No. 208 East Fourtcenth-st, was learned by the officers yesterday and they decided to arrest her. The greater part of the property stolen from Miss Gabadan was found coaccaled in Mrs. Parish's room, When she found that she ind been detected, Mrs. Parish also gave up several pawn tickets for articles which she had pleaged. She coniessed that she had set fire to the boarding-house in order to make Miss Gabadan behieve that the stolen articles

SUICIDE OF MINNIE SCHAFFER.

A young woman, twenty-four years old, called at Philip Corbin's house, No. 16 Coden-st., Jersey City, at a late hour on Sunday and asked for lodgings. She said that her name was Minne Schaffer, and that she lived at No. 298 Seventeenin-st., Brooklyn. It was too late for her to go home, and she was willing to my for her accommodations. and that she lived at No. 298 Seventeenin-si, and that she lived at No. 298 Seventeenin-si, Brooklyn. It was too late for her to go home, and she was willing to pay for her accommodations rather than waik through the streets at that hour. She was well dressed and respectable-looking, and the family gave her a room. Between 2 and 3 o'clock yesterday morning the young woman was heard noaning, and when some of the family went to her room she said that she had taken a dose of Paris green. Dr. Andrew was summoned, and the woman was temoved to Charity Hospital, where she died about 10 a. m. She was conscious all the time but refused to give any reason for taking the poison, except toat she had a crazy lit on her and could not help it. Word was sent to her father and mother, who live at the address she gave. Her father is a pianomaker. He went to Jersey City in the evening and took pessession of the body of his daugnies.

At ner home the young woman had been looked upon as demented for nearly a year. About six weeks ago she attempted to commit sucide by leaping into the river at High Bridge. She was rescued by a boatman, and since then a close watch has been kept upon her, but on Weahestay she ciuded the vigilance of her mother and wandered over to Jersey City. She had been deeply in love with a grocer's cierk in New-York, and his failure to return her affection was the cause of her mental derangement.

IS CORNETTI TO BE HANGED?

There was considerable discussion at White Plains yesterday among the officials at the Court House in reference to the fate of Cornecti, the Italian now in the County Jail, sentenced to be hanged on Friday next, for the murder of Daniel Cash, a fellow convict in the State Prison at Sing Sing. On Thursday a motion of Cornett's counsel, E. I. Lovatt, for a new trial was denied by Judge J. F. Barnard; also a motion for a stay of execution until an appeal to the General Term could be heard and acted upon. It was subsequently held by the counsel for the prisoner that under an amendment to the criminal code passed by the Legislature a notice of an appeal to the General Term, upon the County Clerk and District-Attorney, operated as a stay of execution. A TALK WITH "LUCKY" BALDWIN.

E. J. Baldwin, the San Francisco milhonaire, is a large landowner in Southern Cainorma. He is now in this city making preparations for the irrigation of his lands by conducting the water through iron pipes down from the mountain streams. Mr. Baldwin owns 26,000 acres of land, a large part of which is used for raising grapes and oranges. He states that immigration is rapidly flowing into that region, and that values have increased twenty-live per cent within the last year. In reference to the scheme to create a new State out of the southern portion of California, and make Los Angeles the capital, Mr. Baldwin said that it originated with the militeraps and would very likely end there. capital, Mr. Baldwin said that it organized with the politicians and would very likely end there. The people do not wish it; the interests of the two sections are the same, and there are no geographical or other reasons why the division should be made. Mr. Baldwin is one of the few lucky mining operators of the Pacific const. In a few years be amassed a large fortune. While testifying in a sail he stated that his fortune was between $6,000,000 and $8,000,000—he could not exactly state the amount.

ESCAPING FROM A POLICE STATION.

John F. Breenck, the man who was arrested at the depot of the Long Island Railroad, Long Island City, on Sanday afternoon, for re-fusing to pay his fare, escaped from the Second Precinct Police-Station yester ay morning, about Precinct Police-Station yester.ay morning, about Sociock. There are five cells in the station, numbered 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5. No. 5, adjoining the door of the corridor leading into the back yard, is used as a store-room and is never locked. The corridor door is also kept unfastened, as the police have no key with which to lock it. The door at the other cad of the corridor, opening directly upon the sacwalk, has no fastening, and a block of wood is usually pushed against it to keep it closed. The cells are given by wooden partitions, with crescent-shaped openings cut in them for ventiation. Breenek was locked in cell No. 3. A woman, Mary Lynch, was in No. 4. About 8 o'clock the policemen heard her shouting for help. Officer Eagan went down stairs and she told him that the prisoner in No. 3 had escaped. Upon looking into Breenek's cell, it was found to be empty. The cells have long been out of repair, and the partitions in Nos. 3 and 4 are broken sufficiently to allow of the passage of a man's body. Breenek, aided by the woman, crawled through the hole in the partition, and reached cell No. 5. The door was open and he waiked out into the back yare, and made his way over the low board fence into the core fields hevord. NINE VAIN ATTEMPTS AT SUICIDE. Mary McGee, the insane young woman from East ewark, who is in jail in Jersey City, awaiting ex-Newark, who is in jail in amination by the County Physician as to her samity and who had already tried eight times to strangle herself, made another effort yesterday morning. She concealed herself under a stancase and tied a hand-kerchief tightly around her neck, but was discovered before she had accomplished her purpose. The janier caused her to be piaced in a strait-jacket, but she professed penitence for her act and the jacket was removed. She immediately seized the garment and threw it into a bath-tub, declaring to the jailer at the same time that her life was her own and that she would kill herself, if she wanted to in sorte of his interference. She was again but to, in spite of his interference. She was again put in a jacket and placed in a ceil.

PROVIDING FOR STATE BONDS SOON DUE.

PROVIDING FOR STATE BONDS SOON DUE.

The State of North Carolina has begun preparations for the retunding of the North Carolina Railroad Construction bends. The commissioners appointed by the State for carrying out these operations, although they received their authority in 1879, have only recently secured the cooperation of the bondholders sufficiently to warrant the success of their mission. Meetings of the principal bondholders were held in this city a short time ago, and after a careful discussion of the studies of the bonds was represented. No definite limit has been fixed for the other londholders to signify their assent to the plan. Bonds to be refunded may be forwarded by express to D. W. Bain, secretary of the State Commission, at Raleigh, N. C.

The commissioners are George Davis, Montford Megichee and Donald W. Bain. The bonds to be refunded were issued by the State in aid of the construction of the North Carolina Railroad. At present they amount to about $2,803,000.000. They are dated from 1853 to 1855, and were to run twenty years, and bear six per cent interest. The railroad company has a capital stock of $4,000,000, and a funded debt of less than $300,000. The State of North Carolina helds $3,000,000 stock as security for its ban to the railroad. By its charter the railroad company can piace no morigage lien ahead of the State's interest in this stock. Some years ago the United States Court appointed S. F. Phillips, of Washington, receiver of the State's stock for the protection of the State railroad construction bondholders. The North Carolina Railroad company became dividends pany for thirry years, at a rental which yields about 6 per cent on the stock of the lessor company. Mr. Philips has been applying the dividends paid on the State's stock to the payment of the past due interest on the State North Carolina Railroad Construction bonds. Few over-due coupons on these bonds now remain to be paid.

As the first a ries of these bonds become due next As the first stries of these bonds become due next year, the State has been desirons of extending them. The plan of refunding now open to all these bond-holders, and accepted by the majority of them, is as follows: Holders of the North Carolina Railroad Construction bonds are to surreader their present bonds with the unpaid past due coupons from July 1, 1878, to the State. They receive therefor new State bonds, to the extent only of the principal of their oid noidings. The new bonds are to run thirty years; the interest is 6 per cent, payable semi-annually in April and October, and the coupons are receivable for taxes. It is provided that the present annually in April and October, and the coupons are receivable for taxes. It is provided that the present bondholders shall not, by this exchange, prejudice their lien on the State's stock of the North Carolina Railrand Company. lina Raifroad Company.

TESTIMONY AS TO A BANK ROBBERY.

In the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday morning Justice Smith continued the examination of Bachford and Hormdage, the two witnesses who identified Michael Kurtz and John Love as the persons who were in the vicinity of the Staats Zeitung Building when the Italiau-American Bank was robbed on July 12. Kurtz and Love were defended by ex-ibistract-Attorney Wernberg, of Brooklyn. The witnesses were brought from the House of Detention by two detectives, where they were taken again at the close of the examination. The testimony was taken down by a clerk of the court in long-hand writing, and the witnesses were compelled to sign it witnout either reading it themselves or having it read. This omission was all the more noticeable as the prisoner's comsel kept constantly referring to affidavits which the witnesses had previously signed in a similar manner. At the coaclusion of the examination Love's sister and mother and three friends of Kurtz met them at the door of the court reom. After a moment's consultation the prisoners were led back to the reells.

met them at the door of the court reom. After a moment's consultation the prisoners were led back to the reells.

Joseph Bachford's testimony was in part as follows: "I am a glass-engraver, but am out of employment. I came from England about eight months ago. I had a little money, but failing to get work here I went to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washing and Raleigh. At Raleigh I procured work at house-painting, but returned to New-York the Monday before the bank was robbed. Before I was sent to the House of Detention Hodged part of the time in the home at No. 89 Centre-st., and received my food from St. George's Society. On the might of the burglary I had no money, and so went to City Half Park. Some ime after midinght I sat down beside a stranger, and in a little while he asked if I was not an Englishman. I told him I was, and we then began tais mig about various things, the Crimean War among the rest. I was in that war. While sitting there two men passed us; one was a tall man, who was carrying a valise, and his companion was called to the men, not so much by anytail man, who was carrying a valtse, and his companion was Love, one of the prisoners. My attention was called to the men, not so much by anything about them, as from the fact that they passed us three times. I wice Love was near us as they passed, and in the glare of the electric lights I distinctly saw his features. They went toward Centre-st., and that was the last I saw of them. Hornidge and I were told to leave the Park by a policeman shortly after the men went out of significant. We sat on the steps of the bank. We sat on the steps of the building in which the Court of General sessions is, and a man was standing between us and the bank. building in which the Court of General Sessions 18, and a man was standing between us and the bank. He suddenly turned round and said to us: 'Gentiemen, I expect a lady friend from over the way, and I know she will not come as long as you are here.' That man was Sheenan (Kuriz is his real name), one of the prisoners. I told him I was the name), one of the prisoners. Took thin twist characteristics and wanted to rest. In a few minutes Sheehan took out a handful of silver and repeated his remark about the lady, and thes handed me ten cents to go and get a drink. On Friday we met again accidentally and went together to the Police Headquarters, where we recognize the pictures of the prisoners in the Rogues' Gallery. I have never been convicted, and have mad no promise of reward in this case."

The testimony of Samuel K. Hornidge, who said that he had been employed in Baxter-st, did not differ materially from that of his companion, although he was not so definite concerning dates and conversations as Bachford was.

about firty years of age. The Ambassador met the TRIBUNE reporter with a friendly shake of the hand and an invitation to be seated. His knowledge of English is so limited that the conversation was carried on through the interpreter, Chin Chi Yeung, who is also chief secretary to the Embassy.

The Ambassador stated that he had enjoyed his trip to Europe very much. In London and in Paris, the merchants, as well as well as the members of the Chinese Legations, had done everything they could to make his visit pleasant and promable. Ten days were spent in each of these cities. At Madria, the Ambassador presented his credentials to Kings Alfonso and was cordially received. Here the memoers of the Embassy stayed hity days. The voyage from Liverpool to New-York by the Germanic was uneventical, although the Ambassawas uneventiui, although the Ambassa-

Germanic was uneventini, although the Ambassa-dor was little seasick.

When asked for an opinion as to the right of the Chinese to go through this country on their way to China, the Ambassador replied that he feared that a strict interpretation of the act would not give them this privilege. He had called the attention of President Arthur to the matter, when the Iwenty Years' act was under consideration of Congress, and had entered a protest against it. Most fri feeling toward the United States existed in C which he believed was reciprocated here, and he did not think that the United States would permit this injustice to prevail. He hoped that Congress would find a way out of the difficulty. The matter was serious and demanded careful attention.

William Gallagher, are thirteen, of No. 92 Wal-worth-st., was drowned at the foot of Washington-ave., last evening while bathing in the Wallabout Canal.

Jane McCue was charged before Justice Fishe vesterday with stealing $100 from the rooms of Mrs. Dr. E. M. Gray, of No. 1,144 Fuiton-st., for whom she did some housework. She was held in $500 bonds for examination.

William H. Morris, alias "Country Conklin," known to the police as a suspicious person, was arrested yesterday for stealing a gold watch and chain worth $55 from May Howard, of No. 85 Pearl-st. He says the girl gave him the watch and he pawned it. Morris is a peddier and a dog-catcher.

Jacob Decker, of Flushing, L. I., has begun in the Supreme Court a suit for an absolute divorce from Mrs. Mary Decker. The defendant denies the allegations made against her character, and sets forth that she married the plaintiff in 1881 and lived with him until June, 1882, when he left her in a friendly way and did not return.

The application made by Michael J. Dady, of the Fourth Ward, for an injunction against President Packard, of the Kings County Republican General Committee, to restrain Mr. Packard from ousting him from his seat in that body for non-payment of dues, was denied yesterday by Judge Cullen, who held that the Court had no jurisdiction over a voluntary association where no property interest was involved.

Invoived.

In consequence of the reelection of City Works Commissioner Ropes as president of the Brooklyn Trust Company, the city funds (amounting to $300,000) deposited in that institution have been withdrawn and placed elsewhere. This avoids a violation of the city charter, which provides that no city funds shall be deposited in any institution with which a city officer has an official relation.

A suit has been brought against the city by John Shanley, a policeman from 1875 to January, 1881, to recover $600 reduction of pay, under the provision of the State Constitution that the pay of no public officer, elected or appointed, shall be reduced in his term of office by any private or local bill. He asserts that in 1877 a law was passed giving the Common Council of Brooklyn power to reduce the pay of policemen from $1,100 to $1,000 a year. Several hundred similar suits will be brought if this is successful.

The Convention of the Iron Moulders of the The Convention of the Iron Moulders of the United States and Canada, which ended a session of two weeks on Saturday, in Brooklyn, elected the following officers: P. F. Fitzpatrick, of Cincinnati, president: Thomas White, or St. Louis, James P. Hooley, of New-York, John H. Dance, of Canada, John G. Lewis, or Reading, Penn., vice-president's; and trastees (who are piaced under bonds of $4,000 each): Martin Fox, of Cincinnati; Alfred Thomas, of Cincinnati; William Maloney, of Troy, N. Y.; Daniel J. Wren, of Brooklyn; George Davidson, of St. Louis. The convention will next meet in 1886 at London Canada.

BREAKING UP A POOL ROOM. A DESCENT ON THE PAROLE TURF CLUB.

THE MANAGER AND A NUMBER OF CLERKS AR-RESTED-DENYING THAT THEY EVER SOLD POOLS. RESTED—DENYING THAT THEY EVER SOLD POOLS.

The pool-selling rooms at No. 3 Barclay-st., known as the Parole Purt Club, were broken up yesterday atternoon by the police, the manager. John Hackett, and all but two of the clerks being arrested on a warrant issued by Recorder Smyth. Assistant District Attorney Henry C. Alien decided to break up the pool-room some time ago, and on asst Monday requested Capiann Bergaold, of the I wenty-seventh Precinct, to procure the evidence necessary for the issuing of a warrant, giving him until saturday to obtain it. Thinking that the evidence might not be forthcoming when needed, Mr. Alien also made application to Anthony Comstock on last Wednesday. The evidence was promptly obtained by the later's assistants, who bought pools on horse-caces at the pool-room, and observed the elerks so as to be able to identify them. About 2:30 p. m. yesterday Anthony Comstock and his assistants, Joseph A. Britton, George E. Oram, Benjamin H. Baer and Lonis Bensinger, together with Detective-Sergeants Adams and Ritey and twelve policemen from the Fourth, Sixch and Twenty-sixch Precincis, all in catizens' cioties, marched to the pool-room. John Brennan, a clerk in the District-Attorney's office, who was a little in avance of the party, saw a man in his shirt sleeves, who was evidently on picket duty, run across the in the District-Aitorney's office, who was a little to alvance of the parcy, saw a man in his shirt sleeves, who was evidently on picket duty, run across the street in haste to the pool-room to give the alarm. The officers hurred, but were denied admittance. The warrant was then shown, and heavy shoulders forced the door open. About 200 persons, mostly young men and boys, who had bought pools on the races at Sarabaga, were in the rooms at the time cashing their tickets or waiting to hear the results of their novestments. Two races were put in diagram on the blackboards downstairs. A good deal of money had been paid on tackets, but there were a large number who had their tickets yet to cash. there were a large number who had their tickets yet to cash. The carks stood beamd two semi-circular counters in the middle of the room, on which were boxes of moacy protected by a low wire netting. There was a general stampede at the sight of the officers—the crowd parang in the middle "like the Red Sca under Aaron's rod," as an eye-winness said. There was a scramble for the strins leading to the basement, where there was another crowd of gamblers, but there was no challe for escape.

The clerks in some instances thed to get out of sight, while some began shoveling the money and tickets into their pockets and clothing to Reep it from comiscation by the poince. Mr. mackett, the secretary, however, told the men that they might as well take it quietry. After the warrant had been read to him he called them to one end of the room, where all but two of the clerks were identified by Mr. Comstock's assistants. These two, together with the crowd of patrons of the place, were then allowed to go, "It wasn't an easy crowd to mandle," said one policeman after the arrest. One mad tried to pass miniscit off as the telegraph operator, and another thought to disgaine himself by changing hats with a firend. The following property captured was taken account of by Mr. Ducret, Mr. Comstock's clerk: 28 blackboards, 25 account books, 25 statements of races, 24 ticket-trays, a bushelor two of pool tickots, with which the nouse appeared to be pauded, besides a sum of moaey, including two bags of silver, which was estimated at 8600. After being packed up, the property was sent to Police Headquarters.

panded, besides a sum of money, including two bags of silver, which was estimated at $600. After being packed up, the property was sent to Police Headquarters.

While the pool-room was being searched, the doors and windows were fastened tightly. In an inner hail-way was the sign: "Only members aduntited," and a nolice to "Please show your tickets." A large crowd gathered on the opposite side of the street after the place had been "pulled" and jeered at the ticket-holders, who kept trying the door, hoping to get their winnings. Many who heard that the pool room had been closed up were despondent about ever getting their "hard-earned money." Several persons were confident that the proprietors would cash the outstanding tickets as son as it could be done. "If they don't, we can sue them for it," said one. Another man said:

"I wish they had "raided" the place long ago. I should have been several hundred doilars better oft." The number of boys holding tickets was very large. Some of them might have "I wish they had 'raided' the place long ago. I should have been several hundred doilars better off." The number of boys holding tickets was very large. Some of them might have been messengers for order persons, but others were apparently regular pool beyers. The pool-room, it is said, has been doing business for three years, and was formerly known as Hackett & Delacy's. The rooms were rented from a man named Gallagher, who has rooms for playing fare on the second moor. The prisoners were taken from the Twenty-sixth Precinct Station House late in the afternoon to the office of Recorder Smyth, at No. 25 Nassautst. The affidiavits of Messis. Oram, Baer and Bensinger were read, and those of the prisoners whose names were not given in the complaints were identified by Mr. Comstock's deputies. Three of the prisoners were discharged, the identification being insufficient. The others gave their name, as John Hackett, of No. 306 Third-ave., the secretary of the Parole Turf Club; James Redmond, of No. 2,421 Firstave; Edward Sheerin, of No. 2,421 Firstave; Edward Sheerin, of No. 376 Fourth-ave.; Thomas Leanou, of No. 2,421 Firstave; Edward Sheerin, of No. 34 Bedford-st.; Jacob Phillips, of No. 974 Second-ave., and Charles Kingsiev, of No. 30 Downing-st. They all denied the enarges against them, which were that they were engaged in the seiting of pools and in keeping gamoling instruments. Hackett made the additional statement that pools had never been sold on the premises described. Assistant District-Attorney Alen represented Mr. McKeon's office and ditional statement that pools had hever been sold on the premises described. Assistant District-Attorney Alien represented Mr. McKeon's office and the prisoners were without counsel. They all waived examination. Bail was fixed by the R-corder at $1,500 in each case, and the prisoners were com-

THE WAR IN EGYPT.

REPORTS OF HORRIBLE ATROCITIES. LONDON, July 25.—The Times has the following diapatch from Alexandria: "An Italian refugee says that he saw the bodies of eighty-five Europeans lying in the streets of Tantah, and that intestines were being flung at windows about the streets. Greek's throat was hacked with a penknife, and two English women jumped from windows and were killed in order to escape the massacre. Arabi Pacha put on a train to carry away the Christian survivors, and about 100 persons boarded it. No sooner were they seated than a determined attempt was made to murder them, and it was only frustrated by a friendly native causing the train to start?"

TOPICS IN ALEXANDRIA.

ALEXANDRIA, July 24.—One of the two members ere of the deputation representing the Notables, brought a copy of the proclamation secretly circulated by Ragheb Pacha, stating that England had declared war against all Egyptians. The Khedive declared war against all Egyptians. The Khedive has consequently been strongly advised to dismiss Raghef Pacha from the Ministry and placed him under arrest. It is hoped, also, that as the Ministers are the mere creatures of Arabi Pacha, the Khedive will dismiss them all and form a new Ministry under Cherif Pacha. The deputation, after learning the true state of things here, will try to return to Cairo and inform their colleagues of the facts.

The British guns on Ramleh Heights will completely command the neck of sand, and will render the Egyptian position untenable when they open fire.

THE CONFERENCE AND THE SULTAN. LONDON, July 25 .- The Daily News says it understands that the Conference is considering a proposal to call upon the Sultan to denounce Arabi Pacha as a robel. The Daily News thinks it improb-able that the Conference will much further prolong s sittings. Constantinople, July 24.—The first meeting of the Conference in which the Porte participated was the Conferenteld to-day.

FRANCE AND THE SUEZ CANAL.

PARIS, July 24 .- Admiral Jauregutherry in the Chamber prefaced his motion for a credit by stating that eight vessels travelling the canal throughout its length would be able to protect merchant vessels; that 8,000 men would be kept in Egypt for a landing torce, and that 4,000 men would be dispatched at once to be distributed between Port Said and El Kantarah.

POLITICAL NEWS.

STILL A CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS. CINCINNATI, July 24 .- The Times-Star will day publish a letter from General R. P. Kennedy, of the Eighth Congressional District of Ohio, saying that all reports that he is not a candidate for nomination to Congress are without foundation, and that he expects to have his name submitted to the Republican Congres-sional Convention. This is Speaker Keifer's district.

A NOMINATION ACCEPTED.

PHILADELPHIA, July 24.—Robert E. Pattion has addressed the following letter to the chairman of the committee of the Democratic State Convention appointed to notify him of his nomination for Governor:
GENTLEMEN: I have just received your letter of July 21 advising me of the action of the Democratic State Convention. I accept the nomination for Governor, and if chosen for the office by the people I will strive to perform its duties to their satisfaction.
